Dear Stan:

STAT I appreciate your sharing with me the news about your new Senior Officer Development Course. [] has given me a good run-down on how you are trying to re-shape your in-house educational program and I think you are moving in the right direction.

STAT With respect to the issue of granting credit for "OT & E" course work, the graduate school limits the transfer of credits to a maximum of 12 semester hours (the equivalent of 4 courses) and will consider such requests only after the student has been in residence here for a full semester. Whether your senior officer courses will qualify would depend alot on their content. Perhaps [] could provide [] with additional materials on the course as they are developed.

In the meantime, I was hoping that I could prevail on you to give a Dean's Seminar for students in the School of Foreign Service. These normally take place at 4 or 5 pm in my office, with an informal reception following. I thought you might like to share with us your reflections on the role of national intelligence in the foreign policy making process. I can promise you a very interested and stimulating audience on a date of your choosing sometime between late January and early April. I would look forward to this occasion as an opportunity for the School to express appreciation for your distinguished service to the nation.

With best regards,

Peter F. Krogh
